

IntegrateIT and ARENA PLM Integration

Enable PLM connections to any system for a smarter, more reliable data exchange

OVERVIEW

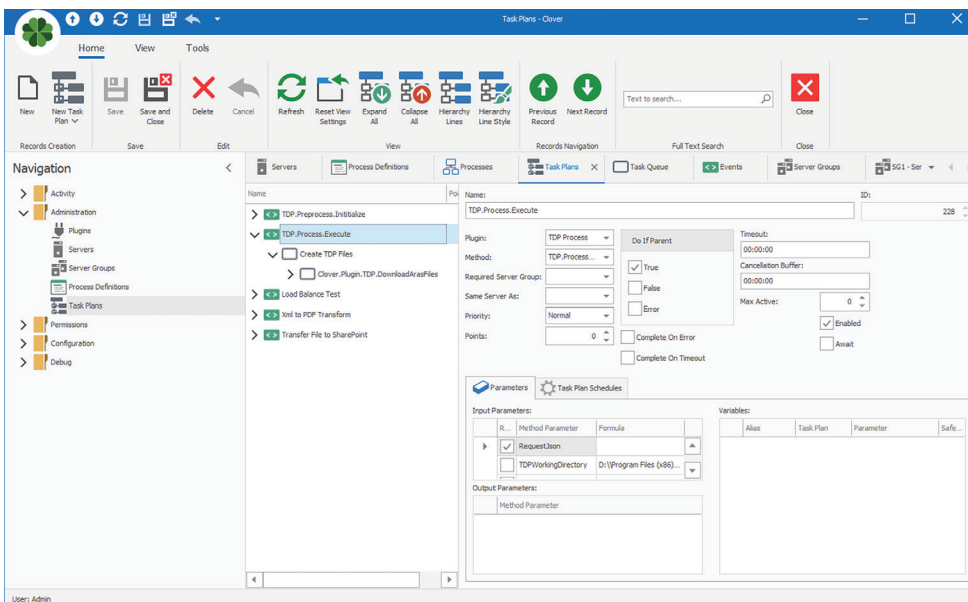

To stay competitive, manufacturers need to continuously innovate their products to meet market demands. As a result, product operations require innovative designs and effective part introduction and change management processes to deliver quality products in time to meet customer demands. With IntegrateIT and Arena PLM integration, organizations can reduce development costs, streamline processes, share product information, and introduce products faster - ultimately extending the value of their Arena PLM investment.

CLOVER IntegrateIT enables Arena PLM connection to any system for a smarter, more reliable data exchange. IntegrateIT provides common pre-built connectors that simplify the way files and data synchronize between Arena PLM and ERP, CRM, MES, and other systems. With IntegrateIT, product data and information are delivered to every area of the organization to ensure data accuracy, reduce implementation costs, and mitigate risks by providing access to the most current data set.

Benefits

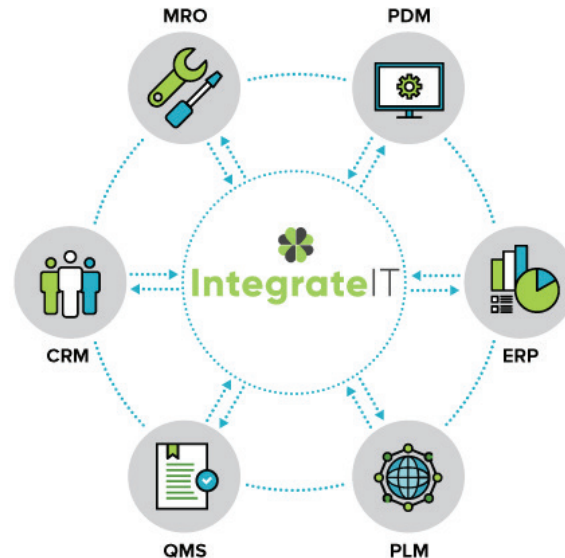

- Utilizes integration best practices designed by PLM and industry experts
- Gains process efficiency and enables seamless data flow to ensure accurate and consistent data for decision making
- Enhances employee productivity by reducing effort, time and re-work
- Simple subscription licensing with no hidden fees nor additional software licensing

Simplify your Arena Integration efforts and connect seamlessly for faster time to market

Capabilities

- Extends Arena PLM data throughout the entire product lifecycle across multiple systems including:
 - Parts and BOMs
 - Document Management
 - Change Management
 - Supplier Management
- Includes pre-built connections to common endpoints which both minimizes the need for customization and reduces total cost of ownership (TCO)
- Provides complete Job Management for prioritization, routing, scheduling, and notification
- Options for cloud, on premise, or a mixed architecture
